Drew,

Below is a statement on behalf of Amgen to be entered into public record for tonight's City Council meeting regarding the solid waste contract. Please let me know if you have any questions. Thank you.

Amgen's headquarters in Thousand Oaks strives to be a corporate leader on issues important to the community including the environment and sustainability. In recent years, companies like Amgen have committed to reducing their environmental footprint through efforts such as focusing on the management of their waste. Likewise, the state of California has passed numerous laws regarding the processing of trash, recycling, and organic waste. Amgen has witnessed firsthand the struggle of some service providers to keep up with these evolving public standards.

Therefore, Amgen believes it would be prudent for the City to solicit proposals/qualifications from multiple service providers to understand the other services, technologies, innovation, and options that may be available.
